

Kids of Kadiogne, Inc.

October 24, 2016

Dear Supporters,

As we near the end of our 10th anniversary celebration year, we are reaching out to you for our annual appeal, excited to move into another year continuing our work in both rural northern Senegal and the capital, Dakar.

Our direct model allows us to use 100% of your contributions to fund operations on the ground in Senegal. Over the past ten years, we have provided new elementary school classrooms, school supplies, a preschool program, educational materials, medical supplies, mosquito nets, a computer lab, a literacy program, support of a rural health clinic, medical transportation, Ebola prevention, HIV prevention, and meals to homeless children. Whether you are able to send a few dollars or a few thousand dollars, you can rest assured that the money will go directly to these programs.

If you have any questions about our work, please do not hesitate to contact Luke at luke@kleinmail.com or Phyllis at rktptbt@me.com. We would enjoy the opportunity to discuss our programs with you, and we are grateful for your continuing support!

Yours truly,

Luke Klein
Executive Director (unpaid)

Phyllis B. Taylor, RN
Board Co-Chair

Kadiogne Courier

The Newsletter of Kids of Kadiogne ❖ www.kidsofkadiogne.org ❖ Fall 2016
Kids of Kadiogne, Inc. ❖ P.O. Box 18983 ❖ Philadelphia, PA 19119 ❖ USA ❖ 1.844.KADIOGNE

Some of the children in our preschool program being escorted home for lunch by our wonderful preschool teacher, Mamadou Deh.

PRES. BARACK OBAMA ON SENEGAL

"I see this as a moment of great progress and great promise for the continent [of Africa]... All too often the world overlooks the amazing progress that Africa is making, including progress in strengthening democracy... Senegal is one of the most stable democracies in Africa and one of the strongest partners that we have in the region. It's moving in the right direction with reforms to deepen democratic institutions. And as more Africans across this continent stand up and demand governments that are accountable and serve the people, I believe Senegal can be a great example... Today, I'm reaffirming that the United States will remain one of Senegal's strongest partners in development."

Over 10 years of dedication to education and health of children and families in need
Thousands of wholesome meals served to homeless children in Dakar
Thousands of life-saving mosquito nets placed in the hands of children, pregnant women, and the elderly
Thousands of children provided school supplies in northern Senegal
100% of your contributions go directly to programs on the ground
All of this is possible because of YOU. Thank you for your continued support!

ANTHONY BOURDAIN ON SENEGAL

"Senegal is one of the best arguments for travel I can think of. Because the more we see of the world, actually meet who we are talking about — or think we are talking about, take a walk, however briefly, in other people's shoes, see how other people live, people who are supposedly so different than us, find ourselves — as so often and so inevitably happens — as recipients of random acts of hospitality and kindness from total strangers — then the better we shall be. And the happier. Knowledge — exposure — to the 'other' is not a contaminant. It enriches us. It makes — or should make us — more humble. Senegal. It's someplace that everyone, given the chance, should go."

Luke and Mamadou receive a warm welcome from one of our most remote partner villages, Hamet Doula.