Education and Health during COVID-19

Dear Supporters,

Never in our fifteen years of service have the two aspects of our mission—health and education—been so directly intertwined! While Senegal responded swiftly to the pandemic and has kept the death toll admirably low, the country has faced the same challenges as all of us. When crisis struck, our longtime, trusting relationships with organizations on the ground allowed us to respond with confidence. Our grants helped to ensure the safety of thousands of children in the communities we serve. Here are snapshots from some of our 2020 projects. Your donations have allowed us to fund these community projects. Please renew your support today so that we can continue this important work in 2021! Thank you!

Yours truly,

Luke Klein,
